Verified contract source

Where to find the verified USDN source code and how to confirm that you are using the official contract.

VERSION	LAST UPDATED	STATUS
0.1	November 17, 2026	Draft

1. Official contract

Item	Value
Network	Neo Smart Chain
Contract address	[Neo Smart Chain contract address]
Explorer page	[Neo Smart Chain explorer URL for the contract]
Compiler version	[solidity compiler version]
Optimization	[enabled or disabled, runs]
Source repository	[repository URL and commit hash]

The only official USDN contract addresses are the ones listed on neosmartchain.com/tokens/usdn. Other tokens may copy the name and ticker.

2. How to verify the contract yourself

1. Open the USDN token page on neosmartchain.com and copy the contract address for the network you use.
2. Open that address on the Neo Smart Chain block explorer.
3. Confirm that the contract source is shown as verified and that the token name is USD Neo and the symbol is USDN.
4. Compare the address with the one shown in your wallet before you approve any transaction.
5. Check the token decimals and total supply against the Tokenomics document.

3. Privileged roles

Role	Holder	Capability
Admin	[multisig address]	[manage roles]
Minter	[multisig address]	Create USDN after a confirmed deposit
Pauser	[multisig address]	[pause transfers in an emergency]
